I wanted to reach out and tell you more about CED's Venture Mentoring Service (VMS). The CED - VMS program is in its tenth year and has helped hundreds of companies take their ventures to new levels with a team-based mentoring approach.

I am an active mentor with CED and have mentored XX companies through the years. I can't tell you how many times this program has helped the companies I have worked with make key decisions that have resulted in growth and pivotal moments for the future of their business.

When you are selected for this free program you are taken under the wings of some of the most experienced entrepreneurs and C-level executives in the area that have decades of experience that cover many areas of business -- they form a team of mentors to guide you through the three to nine month engagement.

[I know this has been a challenging time for entrepreneurs and I invite you to tap into this resource during this time. The CED - VMS program is still operating virtually until we can meet in-person again.]

Discover more about CED - VMS by visiting the CED website today. I look forward to connecting and guiding your company to new places!
